Weekly Prayer

O my God, I firmly believe that Thou art one God, in three Divine Persons, the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost; I believe that Thy Divine Son became man and died for our sins and that He will come to judge the living and the dead. I believe these and all the truths which the holy Catholic Church teaches, because Thou hast revealed them, Who canst neither deceive nor be deceived.

What We Are Learning

Religion: I have loved discussing curious questions about the Sacraments over the last several weeks. Next week we will continue to learn about the Sacrament of Confirmation.

Reading/Writing: Next week students will finish a rough draft of their argumentative essay on natural disasters (11/7). I have included a rubric for this essay under "resources" on our class website. I really appreciate having these growing authors work independently on their writing pieces. I fully support your help proof-reading for spelling and some grammar. When it comes to crafting and completing their essays, please make sure it comes from their writing creativity.

Math: Our mathematicians have been working hard on division. Chapter 4 covers more advanced division strategies and equations. Students may access khanacademy.org/mappers at home to practice skills tailored to their needs.

Social Studies: We will be having our first social studies test on Tuesday 11/5 this week. Students will be allowed to use the review packet we are working on in class.

Science: Science will be moving a little bit slower this week due to conferences. We are still exploring different forms of energy. Students are also experimenting with how to construct their vehicles to move faster and travel longer distances.
